

Last chance to vote for Members Leading Members in November!

What we stand for:

- Negotiating strong contracts
- Fighting for members' rights in arbitration
- Educating and empowering members
- Fiscal responsibility
- Political engagement
- Returning members' phone calls in a prompt manner, and thoroughly answering members' questions
- Organizing new members!

The last contested election at Local 73 was over 30 years ago.

The international wanted to keep out-of-state trustees in power and tried to keep us off the ballot for a no-contest election, but we fought and won the right for you to choose your leaders in a contested, democratic election!

Elect the leaders who will fight for you, not the international! Vote for Members Leading Members!

Remzi Jaos, the leader of Members Leading Members and candidate for President of Local 73, has fought for members for over 27 years.

As the Higher-Ed Division Director, he has negotiated 19 master contracts with wage increases ranging from 5% to 30% per year.

For the past 10 years, Remzi grew the Higher-Ed Division at Local 73 from 2,600 members to over 4,000 members by negotiating residual titles into existing contracts, resulting in thousands of members gaining higher wages and collective bargaining rights.

- Remzi Jaos conducted the first strike in Local 73 in over 30 years with UIC professionals, resulting in higher wages for over 800 members.
- Remzi also negotiated contracts for city colleges, University of Chicago, Northwestern University, Argonne National Laboratories, Governor State University, as well as first contracts for Loyola and the University of Chicago faculty.

His mission is to hire the best representatives possible and give all the members of Local 73 the same opportunity: stronger contracts, higher wages, and solid representation.

Remzi Jaos, candidate for President of Local 73.
